Historical/Biographical Notes

Graton & Knight Manufacturing Co. was established in Worcester in 1851, as tanners and manufacturers of leather belting and other leather goods. The company incorporated in 1872. Throughout its peak years the company processed over 300,000 hides annually, with over 1400 employees. Company branches were scattered throughout the United States, and in many other countries throughout the world. Development of plastics and synthetic materials after World War II drastically reduced the demand for leather, and the company ceased operations about 1962.

Scope and Content

The collection is comprised of catalogs of leather goods, 1910-1930s; and company manuals, 1916 & 1945. Also included are annual reports of the company and reports to stockholders, ca. 1925-1931; company newsletters, 1940-1943. Much of the collection is comprised of catalogs, fliers, and leather samples relating to leathercraft, with patterns and instructions for leather hobbyists, ca. 1927 - ca. 1937.

The collection provides significant insight into the many uses of leather prior to the development of plastics and synthetic materials.
