Historical Background

The Worcester Lunch Car and Carriage Manufacturing Company was founded by Philip H. Duprey and Irving M. Stoddard in 1906. They bought out the lunch car building business organized by Wilfred H. Barriere and Stearns A. Haynes the previous year. The company built a total of 651 diners during its 55 years in business, beginning with serial number 200 through serial Number 851. The serial number assigned at the time of construction stayed with the diner throughout its life, including any subsequent remodeling or rebuilding. Worcester Lunch Car diners were well known for the high quality of the work, and handcrafted wooden elements. The diners were noteworthy because of the monitor roof with clerestory windows to allow ventilation of cooking odors. Many of the diners were decorated with porcelain enamel graphics. Worcester Lunch Car diners were marketed throughout New England, and were found in each of the region's states. The company ceased operations May 23, 1961. The inventory was purchased by Francis Van Slett of Worcester, in 1961, who began operations as Worcester Deluxe Diner Manufacturing Company. Plans were drawn and construction was started on one diner, which was never completed.

Scope and Content

The collection consists of a single item, a pencil sketch exterior view of one side and one end of a proposed diner, probably made in 1961. Since construction of the diner was never completed, plans and sketches are the only available information source for this company.
