Historical/Biographical Notes

Rosamond Hadley and Brayton Lincoln married in 1949. Ancestors of Brayton Lincoln depicted in the collection include members of the Lincoln, Chandler, Nichols, and Brayton families. Ancestors of Rosamond Hadley depicted include members of the Hadley, Lindsay, Wardwell, and Jones families. In addition family members of the generation of Rosamond and Brayton Lincoln, and their descendants are illustrated.

The collection provides a pictorial representation of the genealogies of the various families, and is a useful tool for such genealogical study.

Scope and Content

The Lincoln Family Photograph Collection was assembled by Rosamond Hadley Lincoln, and includes photographs of her ancestors as well as her husband Brayton Lincoln's. Their children and descendants families are also included. The collection comprises some 1200 photographs, from the middle 19th century to the 1990s. Also included are photographs of paintings of earlier ancestors, notably Levi Lincoln and brother Enoch Lincoln. Photographic genre includes portrait photographs, cartes de visite, cabinet photographs, snapshots, and Kodacolor prints. Processes represented include tintypes, albumen prints, cyanotypes, collodion prints, and gelatin silver prints. In addition to the photographs, information relating to family connections useful as genealogical source tool has been added by the donor.

Families represented in the collection include Lincoln, Chandler, Nichols, Brayton, Hadley, Wardwell, Lindsay, Jones, and others.

Original order of the collection is by family in six albums. This has been retained.
