Historical Notes

Charles L. Putnam was born on September 10, 1810 in New Hampshire. He attended school at Dartmouth College and, after his graduation in 1830, became a lawyer in Keene, New Hampshire. During his time in Keene, he also became postmaster. He was a very social man, keeping in constant contact with several of his business peers and social friends, specifically C. J. Woolson. On June 23, 1835, he married Dorothy Flagg and had a daughter named Mary shortly after. Due to a long-standing illness, Dorothy Flagg died in August 1841.

Putnam moved to Worcester around 1846 while Mary attended school in Boston, staying with some of Putnam's family. Putnam expanded his career in Worcester by becoming part of the Merchants and Farmers' Fire Insurance Company and later the Vice President of the State Mutual Life Insurance Commissioners. He was also a representative to the General Court and a founder and supporter of the Episcopal parish. Charles L. Putnam died in Worcester on July 17, 1877 after a long, full career.

Scope and Content

The collection contains correspondences largely to and from Charles L. Putnam, but also includes four letters written by his wife Dorothy and his wife's brother to their mother. Letters to Putnam include ones from clients and business peers as well as good friends and family members. There are also several letters written by Charles L. Putnam to Dorothy Flagg before they were married. Many of these letters were sent to Putnam's home in Keene, New Hampshire until he relocated to Worcester around 1846.
